

CHANGING THE NARRATIVE

ON MENTAL HEALTH AND SUICIDE

Talking about mental health and suicide can be an uncomfortable and uncertain topic that can bring up different feelings, beliefs, and attitudes for everyone. Changing the Narrative on Mental Health and Suicide empowers conversations around language and providing support, in the hopes to change perceptions of mental health towards hope and resilience.

This free training is hosted in partnership with Foley Public Schools, Benton County Public Health, and the East Central Regional Suicide Prevention Coordinator and is open to parents, educators, and anyone in the community working closely with youth.
